

In the Light Theatre Presents

Loose Knit by Theresa Rebeck

March 28-April 1, 2007

Directed by Douglas S. Hall
At the Michael Weller Theatre

"A heady blend of Noel Coward and Wendy Wasserstein...Loose Knit has enough crackle to qualify as one of the smarter comedies of manners to be seen in New York...Its humor only partly camouflages a bleak picture of New York life in which relationships are as hard to develop as they are quick to unravel." Stephen Holden, New York Times

Do we really need the opposite sex to make our lives work? This is just one of the questions the five women in Theresa Rebeck's Loose Knit consider as they get together weekly to knit and decompress from their hectic New York lives. Lily is the perfect hostess and mother; Liz, a celebrity journalist who hates the liars she's forced to interview; Paula, a psychologist who wonders who she really helps; Margie, a caterer, is looking for love and all lawyer Gina wants to do is knit! Add in Bob, Lily's husband, and millionaire capitalist Miles and the group begins to unravel. Can the women pick up the all dropped stitches and knit their friendships back together again?
